

THE EDITORS

Of West Virginia Republican Newspapers Go to Canton

TO-DAY TO VISIT MR. M'KINLEY.

The Trip is Under the Auspices of the West Virginia Republican Press Association—Editors Gathered in Wheeling Last Night, and will Leave for Canton This Morning—Mr. P. W. Morris, of Ritchie, to be the Delegation's Spokesman.

At 10 o'clock this morning two special cars will leave the Wheeling & Lake Erie station in this city, filled with West Virginia Republican newspaper men to pay a visit to Major McKinley at his home in Canton. Many of the editors will be accompanied by their wives or daughters, and it is expected that the trip will be one of the pleasantest of the many that have been made from various parts of the country to the Republican Mecca since the nomination of the next President.

All was a scene of bustle and activity at the state headquarters last night when an Intelligence reporter called. Twenty-five or thirty of the state editors, who had arrived on the evening trains, were present, and Secretary A. B. White was having his hands full entertaining them and answering questions regarding the progress of the campaign and the Republican outlook generally.

Being a newspaper man himself, Secretary White knew just how to be interviewed and acquitted himself in a most satisfactory manner. He proved also to be something of an expert in the eyes of the visitors, and succeeded in getting some very good news from the visiting brethren. The reports from all parts of the state were to the effect that the Republican outlook is of the most encouraging nature.

A Sample Report.

One of the most prominent of the visitors was Editor J. J. Peterson, of the Huntington Herald, ex-United States consul to Tegucigalpa, Honduras, under the Harrison administration. Mr. Peterson expressed the feeling that prevailed among all the newspaper men present when he said in answer to a question:

"The cause of sound money and protection is gaining strength every day in our part of the state. All talk about disaffection among Republicans on account of the silver question is greatly exaggerated. It is a part of the Popocratic game of bluff. Down in our part of the state they tell us that the free silver sentiment is strong over in some other section; when you go there they refer you to still another section, but you can never find the so-called tidal wave. In the northern part of the state they tell you that the people are going wild over free silver up in the Wheeling region. Since I have been here I find that those stories are unfounded, but that Popocrats say the sentiment is sweeping things in the southern counties."

And so it is; wherever you go, the silver craze is always somewhere else and you can run it down in this way until you are forced to the conclusion that the Republicans are lined up and that the reports of disaffection are campaign roborachs started in a vain effort to start a stampede. The sober truth is, that where you find one free silver Republican you will find ten sound money Democrats. You see how it is in Ohio country. It is pretty much that way elsewhere in the state."

The Trip to Canton.

The excursion will start for Canton promptly at 10 o'clock this morning from the Terminal station. The editors already here will be joined this morning by others, with their ladies, and the crowd will number fully seventy-five. Hon. P. W. Morris, the veteran editor of the Ritchie Gazette, will be the spokesman of the party, on the arrival at the McKinley home, and he will be responded to by Major McKinley, and the usual reception will follow.

After a few hours in Canton the party will leave for Wheeling, arriving here about 10 o'clock to-night. Special arrangements are made and all who join the party will be comfortably provided for.

Following is a list of those who will comprise the party, so far as they were registered last night at the committee rooms, where Mr. Kittson, who has the matter in charge, was kept busy completing the arrangements:

POLITICAL MATTERS.

Many Local Republican Clubs Meet—New Clubs Organized for the Campaign—Activity All Along the Line.

While in New York last week National Committeeman N. B. Scott, of this city, gave his views of Major McKinley's letter of acceptance to the New York Herald, as follows: "I think it is one of the best papers that has ever been given out by a candidate for the office of President. It is clean cut and set forth in such a plain, matter of fact style that no one can be mistaken as to the meaning of the author. On the money question his position is absolutely correct. His remarks in regard to arraying the clouds against the masses is timely and should be heeded. His views as regards the tariff I heartily endorse. His reference to sectional lines being wiped out and the noble lines in which he expresses himself toward the southern people will, I am sure, be greatly appreciated by them. Taking the paper as a whole, it is a real gem and one of the best I have ever seen in my life. It is a citizen, with the welfare of his country at heart, could object to, Major McKinley has risen above party and has stamped himself as a patriot and a great American citizen."

The Republican county committee has arranged for a mass meeting in the North End, to be held next Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the corner of Seventh and Market streets. The principal speaker of the evening will be the Hon. Sam. Burdette, of Charleston, prosecuting attorney of Kanawha county. Mr. Burdette is one of the best speakers on the stump, and will undoubtedly draw a great crowd. In past campaigns he did effective work, his method of illustrating his points by the articles themselves being novel and helpful. In the Third and Fourth districts it used to be a standing joke that "Sam Burdette was about to arrive in town with his stock of dry goods, hardware and notions" which he used in connection with his speech.

The Dover Club, of the Eighth ward, which has in charge the Eighth ward, will have a mass meeting at Mozart Park next Saturday afternoon, cordially inviting all Republican clubs of Wheeling and its surrounding towns to participate in the street demonstration that will precede the speeches at the park. Clubs that decide to turn out will assemble at the McLeure House corner not later than 1:30 p. m., when the column, escorted by the speakers, will move.

The outlook for the big Populist gathering at Clarksburg on the 2d and 3d instants is that it will be the greatest assemblage of that party ever held in West Virginia. It will be in the nature of a state rally of the party, and some good speaking talent is expected to be present. Among those who will probably address the meeting are Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease, of Kansas, and Hon. Tom Watson, the Populist candidate for vice president on the ticket with Bryan. Every effort is being made to have them attend, and if their engagements will permit either one or both of them will respond to the call. The formal opening of the Populist campaign in this state, and, as above stated, it is likely that the meeting will be a big one.

Chairman William M. O. Dawson, of the state Republican committee, left for his home in Kingwood, where he will remain until Thursday.

The Logan Club, of the Island, will meet to-morrow evening at the Island House and will reorganize for the coming campaign. This has always been a large club and is expected to be larger this year than formerly. Several of the active Republicans of the ward met last evening and discussed plans for perfecting the organization of Island Republicans. It is hoped that all citizens in favor of and honest dollar will attend Wednesday evening's meeting.

The Tariff Champions are strictly in it. Their drilling on Eoff street last night showed they had not forgotten how to drill. Quite a number participated. They will hold a meeting Thursday evening at Odd Fellows hall and after transacting business they will drill. The club numbers about 150 members. When the several committees report it is expected that twice that number will be enrolled. One of the Sunday papers stated that the uniforms for this club will cost $7.75, which is wrong. The total cost of the uniform will be $1.95.

The Sixth Ward Republican Club met in its rooms on Chapline street last night and organized for the campaign. The meeting was well attended and great enthusiasm prevailed. A constitution and by-laws were adopted for the government of the club, and a committee appointed to select and report on uniforms at the next meeting, which will be held Thursday evening. At this meeting all Republicans of the ward who can do so are requested to attend and enroll themselves as members. Already the club numbers 34 members and bids fair to be one of the largest in the city. Among the members are many ex-Democrats who have allied themselves with the party of sound money and protection to home industries. At Thursday's meeting, arrangements for a marching club will be perfected. A drum corps is also projected and will be organized if possible this week.

Last night at 314 North Main street, a meeting of North End Republicans was held and the Washington District Republican Club formed. County Commissioner Jacob Kindelberger called the meeting to order and acted as temporary chairman. The following officers were elected:

- President—Dr. C. F. Ulrich.
 - Vice president—J. H. Riddle, sr.
 - Secretary—John P. Kindelberger.
 - Assistant secretary—Rudolph Schafer.
 - Treasurer—Henry Seric.
- In assuming the chair, Dr. Ulrich made a fine speech that was punctuated with frequent applause. A committee on constitution and by-laws composed of Messrs. Frank Stanton, Edward Elliott and Joseph Kindelberger, was appointed and will report at the next meeting of the club, which will turn out Friday and escort Hon. Sam. Burdette from the McLeure to Seventh and Market streets, where he will make an address to the North End people. The club starts with an enrollment of 138 members.

The county republican committee has not yet decided the place for the great mass meeting which will be addressed by Senator Thurston, of Nebraska, on Thursday of next week, September 10, but this and other details of the meeting will be settled very soon. The indications are that the Thurston meeting will be a record breaker in point of attendance.

The youngsters of Thirteenth street have been seized with the excitement of the campaign and have organized a marching club, which will be known as the "McKinley Gold Bugs." There are about thirty of the little fellows in the club and they have begun drilling and getting ready for the campaign. Orme Paris was elected captain and Freddie Brandt lieutenant. The boys will be equipped with a modest and neat outfit and they will have a parade every day from now until election.

The Elkins Cadets are equipped and ready for their turnout, and when they make their first public appearance on the streets in their neat uniforms next Saturday afternoon, they will present the finest appearance of any club ever organized for campaign escort duty in Wheeling. Last night they held a meeting at the Odd Fellows hall and the attendance was so great that seats were at a premium. Over a hundred prominent young men were present to get their uniforms, which had arrived the day before. Three large boxes containing the coats and caps were opened and the garments distributed to the members, whose measures had been taken a couple of weeks ago. The boys tried on their new coats and they were found to fit elegantly. The duck trousers are ready and are furnished by Kraus Brothers. Captain Travis requested the members to report in full uniform at 7:30 next Friday evening for drill. A drill will also take place this evening. A number of new measures taken by H. C. Richards for uniforms. The Cadets make up a great organization and will make a hit in the campaign.

NOT WELCOMED.

Pendleton and Dryden Receive a Chilly Reception at Bridgeport—Both Made Demagogic Speeches.

The advertised Popocratic meeting came off at Bridgeport last night. There was no music, no enthusiasm and no cheering, except for McKinley. The crowd was small, most of it Republicans who were there just because they had nothing else to do and had a curiosity to hear and see.

The meeting was called to order and Mr. Every South was made chairman. He made the best speech of the evening, however he used a profanity or vulgarism in his remarks.

M. F. Dryden, of Wheeling, was introduced and saluted him. He told the old state story of the swearing poll parrot that was doused and swung in a cage, and after it was all over, said: "Where in the world was you when the cyclone struck us?" This, of course, is new, very new; only about 600 years old. More or less. However, Dryden thought it would go in Bridgeport, but it didn't. His speech was objected to on account of its profanity and lack of dignity and respect for ladies who were present. As to its argument, there was none.

Mr. J. O. Pendleton, of Wheeling, was next introduced. He created something of a sensation by stating that he wanted to get down to the stand, and get nearer to his audience, and putting his action to his words immediately commenced to climb down and off the stand. He said he wanted a chair. He got it, and, shaking his gory locks, sailed in to conquer. "But he didn't."

He talked tariff, saying that for the past thirty years the country had been prosperous, accumulating more wealth than any nation on the face of the globe. This, he said, had been done under protection and a gold standard. Here he began to work in his demagogic by the state sayings of the rich getting richer, and the poor getting poorer, and without reason or argument played successfully on the passions, ignorance and prejudices of the people. He mistook his audience. He had for his auditors reading, thinking, intelligent Republicans, who are engaged in business of various kinds, who knew more of the subject he was trying to talk about than he knows.

There was not more than 100 standing on the street when he closed. Three cheers for McKinley was offered, and heartily responded to, and the crowd dispersed.

ABOUT PEOPLE.

Strangers in the City and Wheeling Folks Abroad.

Many of the Wheeling and West Virginia delegates to the encampments of the Grand Army of the Republic, Ladies of the G. A. R., Women's Relief Corps and other veteran organizations which meet in St. Paul this week, left yesterday over the Baltimore & Ohio Pennsylvania lines. The delegates on the Pennsylvania were as follows: Captain Henry Seamon, of Moundsville; Mrs. M. Anna Hall, Mrs. L. Jacobs, Mrs. E. Chalfant, Mrs. Eliza Fullerton, Miss Clara Fullerton, Mrs. Mary E. Rose, Mrs. James Faucett, Mrs. L. J. Bayha, Mrs. F. N. Lunce, and others. On the Baltimore & Ohio trains about twenty left yesterday.

Dr. R. O. McMaisters has returned from a vacation trip through West Virginia.

Mr. J. Ed. Trueman, of Bridgeport, leaves to-day to attend the G. A. R. encampment in session at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Mrs. Frank Stanton and children have returned home from the Moundsville camp grounds, where they have been spending the summer.

Messrs. John Heil, Gus Weitzel, Ed. George and Adam John are sojourning on Fish creek, and send reports of several big catches. Weitzel landing a two-pound bass, while Dr. John conquered a five-pound cat-fish.

Yesterday morning several of the West Virginia delegates to the Indianapolis convention of sound money Democrats, left for the Indiana capital, including General Alfred Caldwell, Major Randolph Stalnaker, and C. D. Weidenhelm. Mr. J. B. Sommerville, who is not a delegate, also left with the party. Among last night's departures were Major Rollyson, of Braxton, and Professor John M. Birch, of Wheeling.

AMUSEMENTS.

Manager Feinler of the Grand Opera House should have lots of visitors at his popular theatre this week, for he has an attraction that discounts anything in the specialty line seen here in a long time. It is the Roof Garden Specialty Company and it is "a winner" from the word go. Every act is worthy of the highest praise and every artist in a company a star.

Wheeling's old and popular favorites Phil and Nettie Peters, are with the company and they make the hit of their lives.

Teachers' Institute.

The Wheeling public school teachers' institute will open to-day at the Y. M. C. A. building and continue for four days. It promises to be one of the best that has been held in the city for years and will be attended by some noted educators from other cities, among whom are Professor Gilbert, of St. Paul, Minn., and Dr. Douthat, of the West Virginia University. The former gentleman arrived yesterday and will address the teachers to-day on "The teacher and the child." Dr. Douthat will lecture next Thursday.

TRAVELERS are frequently troubled with dysentery, diarrhoea or other bowel complaints brought on by change of water and diet. One dose of Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry will bring relief.

IF you have ever seen a little child in the agony of summer complaint, you can realize the danger of the trouble and appreciate the value of instantaneous relief always afforded by DeWitt's Colic & Cholera Cure. For dysentery and diarrhoea it is a reliable remedy. We could not afford to recommend it as a cure unless it were a cure. Charles R. Good Blood

Is essential to health. Every nook and corner of the system is reached by the blood, and on its quality the condition of every organ depends.
